

The logo "MOL Transport Solutions" already indicates that the activities of the MOL group are strongly oriented towards the construction of vehicles and vehicle parts. Under the heading 'Transport Solutions', the MOL group focuses on niche markets. The group has an extensive engineering team and appropriate production equipment to develop and build products that have to meet specific requirements.

The focus is much less on mass production but on the creation of added value for the customer.

The current activities can be subdivided into 4 product groups

- Trucks/Motorized vehicles
- Trailers
- Refuse collection vehicles
- Subcontracting

It has been a conscious decision to retain these 4 product groups in order to spread the risk and make the activities less cyclically sensitive.

In the future, vehicle construction for niche markets will continue to be the activity of the MOL group. Major changes in the type of products that will be built are unlikely. The objectives are:

- Keep production costs under control and grow by increasing the efficiency of the production process.
- The existing continuous improvement process must result in action plans in which objectives are formulated. These should lead to the further development and production of high-quality products that meet the current wishes of the customers, comply with the applicable standards and legislation and are realized by applying the most recent technical innovations.
- During the improvement process, the quality, safety and environmental aspects are always taken into consideration. As a result, the business activities must result in sustainable solutions for each stakeholder.
